Two Coaches attend camp for FREE when they bring their team!

The North Carolina Girls' Soccer Team Camp will immerse you in a 'motivational coaching course' designed to share everything we have done to produce the extraordinary success of 21 National Championships by University of North Carolina Women's Soccer Team. You and your team will be trained by hand picked staff on the field during three training sessions each day after seeing a demonstration of the curriculum performed by some of the top collegiate players in the nation. Coach Dorrance will also conduct two lectures each day in which he will review the curriculum with you and give you personal insights into what he feels can help take your team to the next level. You will be taught the UNC System and learn some of the 'intangible' factors that can make your team more competitive. At the end of the morning session and in the evening your players will be challenged with matches against other teams in the camp so every possible facet of player development is involved during the camp experience: quality demonstrations, expert field sessions, cutting edge lectures, and 11 v 11 competitions.
